MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT : Weekly Report of the Office of Training

1. Courses

a. Records Management

Records management training is progressing very well. We have already had presentations [REDACTED] in Trends and Highlights, 25X1A the Midcareer, and the Intelligence and World Affairs courses.

The first Records Disposal Seminar was held on Tuesday, the 26th, with 17 Records Management Officers, GS-09 to GS-13, as students and six senior records officers as observers. The selection of the RMOs for the first session was intentional: to evaluate the program and to determine the applicability of the coverage to newcomers to the subject. Not all critiques have been received but the initial thinking is that some of the content may be too advanced for the uninitiated. The second seminar is scheduled for Friday of this week, this time with 19 "non-records" employees and 6 observers. Critiques will also be solicited and necessary modifications will be incorporated for the third running, in December. (During October and November there will be three presentations each on file systems, and forms design and control.)

We have had almost 150 applications for the three Seminars, each of which was expected to be kept at a maximum of 15. Our new schedule, beginning in January 1973, we expect will take care of the present oversubscription plus the other applications certain to be forthcoming in the intervening months.

Concurrently, plans are underway to film the presentation on records Mr. Everett Alldredge, formerly with National Archives and now retired, will make to senior officials in the Agency. (His presentation will be quite similar to the one he gave at your Staff Meeting in April of this year.) [REDACTED] lectures given in the three courses named above and presentations in the Records Disposal Seminar will also be filmed.

b. Latin American Area Seminar

The Latin American Area Seminar is off to a good start in its first FY 73 running. Eleven students are enrolled, only three from WH Division; the remainder mainly from the DDI. At the session on 19 September, Dr. Milton Barall, a retired Foreign Service Officer, discussed Caribbean problems and their implications for US security interests. Seminar participants engaged him in a lively give-and-take that also involved problems of economic development in Latin America. Dr. Barall has had considerable experience in this field as a top-level advisor in both AID and the Department of State.

c. Language Statistics

The Language School's total enrollment is now up to 341 students, 66 more than were enrolled at this time a year ago. Of particular interest is that the classes being held at the Headquarters Building make up one-fifth of the total daytime hours of instruction given by the school, a promising result of the decision to take the language training closer to the customer.

2. Special Item

Several persons in OTR have recently provided [REDACTED] of 25X1A the Intelligence Community Staff with information on training in analytical methodologies given by OTR and at external facilities. The information 25X1A was in support of a study [REDACTED] is doing on the kinds of training given to both new and experienced analysts in the Agency, and one which apparently is to include recommendations to the DCI if any changes in the training are thought necessary.

25X1A [REDACTED] spent time with [REDACTED] discussing training in information 25X1A science techniques, with instructors in the School of Intelligence and World Affairs on the coverage of analytical techniques in the production courses, and with members of the Admissions, Information and Records Branch, where he obtained a lengthy list of courses taken under Agency sponsorship at outside facilities and the number of employees who took those courses.

25X1A [REDACTED] has phoned his thanks for the assistance, and reports that he has enough data to work with.

3. Notes

Three conferences are scheduled for the [REDACTED] 25X1A during October: OSR, 12-13; IAS Working Management Conference, 13-14; and WH Division's COS Conference, 30 October-3 November. . . . Robert by private contractors. . . . Enrollment for the 30 October Foreign Affairs Executive Seminar now stands at six: five are from the DDI and one, 25X1A [REDACTED] from the Office of Logistics. . . . We have received confirmation from the U.S. Army Armor Center at Fort Knox that the second running of the Special Orientation Course for CIA Personnel will be held 13-17 November 1972. (This is the special course designed by the Center at the request of Bruce Clarke for his specialists and given for the first time in April of this year. The cost to the Agency is travel and per diem.)

We have notified OSR; they plan to send six to eight students. . . . [REDACTED] 25X1A
